VERDICT BREAKING WILL OF PEABODY SET ASIDE
MOTION TO APPROVE AND ALLOW THE DOCUMENT DENIED BY JUDGE.

Judge Bailey, in the Supreme Court, this morning, set aside the verdict of the jury given about five weeks ago, breaking the will of Henry B. Peabody.

He refused, however, to grant the motion made by Samuel J. Elder, counsel for the estate, that he approve and allow the will, and a further hearing of the case will be necessary.

When the verdict breaking the will was rendered by the jury, Mr. Elder moved that it be set aside on the following grounds:

First, that the verdict was contrary to the evidence given in the trial.
Second, that the verdict was contrary to law and to the instructions given by the jury.

Both Contentions Upheld.
Each of these contentions were upheld by Judge Bailey in his ruling this morning. Mr. Elder also asked that Judge Bailey approve and allow the will, but this request was denied without prejudice.

Henry B. Peabody, who died in 1898, left a large estate, and it was his will that the bulk of it should go to fund an industrial school for girls in Norway. His daughters, Asa L. and Hannah M. Peabody, and Mrs. Hannah M. Peabody, a sister, contested the provisions of the document on the ground that it was of unimpaired mind and had been duly executed. The document was allowed by Judge Bailey and a jury verdict was given, which rendered, after a trial before Judge Bailey in the Supreme Court, is a jury breaking the will.

Peabody, a sister, contested the provisions of the document on the ground that it was of unimpaired mind and had been duly executed. The document was allowed by Judge Bailey and a jury verdict was given, which rendered, after a trial before Judge Bailey in the Supreme Court, is a jury breaking the will.

The Verdict Was Set Aside.
The Judge P. J. Jones, recorder, and a motion to have the verdict set aside. The Supreme Court decision today is in answer to the motion.

over the will which evidence was not regarding the personal peculiarities of the testator. His favorite niece, Mrs. J. H. Peabody, said that she was not present at the signing of the will. She will not sign the will. The will will be set aside on the ground that it was not the will of the testator.

It has been alleged that the aged son of the testator, who died in 1898, was the second husband of Mrs. Julia Peabody, who was separated by divorce from an artist cousin of Mr. Peabody. It is said that Mr. and Mrs. Peabody at one time made their home with the actress in her home in Boston.

German Emperor Sails His Own Schooner, Charley Barr the Ingomar, and Latter Never Was in Peril—Empress in the Race, Too, on the Iduna, Which Quit When the Kaiser's Yacht Was Wrecked.

KIEL, GERMANY, JUNE 24.—THE AMERICAN YACHT INGOMAR, OF NEW LONDON, CONN., BELONGING TO COM. MODORE PLANT AND CAPTAINED BY CHARLEY BARR, WON A VICTORY TODAY OVER THE KAISER'S YACHT, METEOR, THE EMPRESS'S YACHT IDUNA, AND THE HAMBURG, BELONGING TO KIER BALLIN.

THE LATTER FINISHED SECOND. THE METEOR LOST HER TOPMAST AND WAS DROVE TO THE HARBOR. THE IDUNA ABANDONED THE RACE AFTER THE ACCIDENT TO THE METEOR. THE KAISER SAILED HIS AMERICAN BUILT YACHT WITH A CREW OF GERMANS. THE EMPRESS, IN FULL YACHTING COSTUME, WAS ON BOARD THE IDUNA.

BARR SENT INGOMAR TO THE FORE.

The skill of the skipper's steered Reliance to victory over Shamrock III, sent Ingomar's the fore to-day and kept her well in the lead throughout the race. Her Ballin's boat was not a close enough second to cause the American contingent at the races any grave anxiety. The Kaiser sailed the Meteor with the skill of a horn sailor, and but for the accident would have made a good showing.

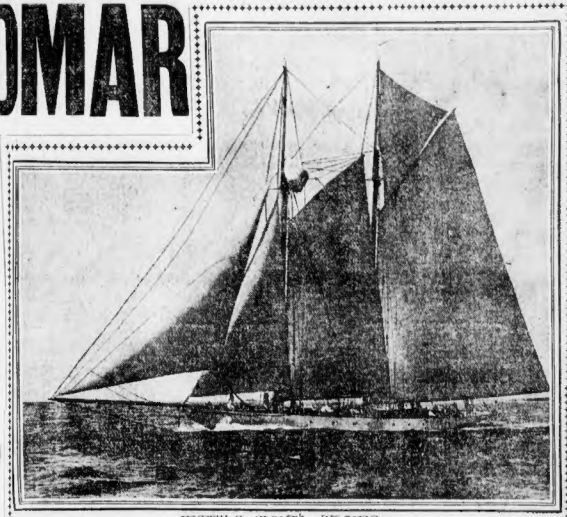

Today was the first time Meteor has been sailed in a race with German skipper and crew. Heretofore she has been captained by Ben Parker, and sailed by a British crew.

When the four yachts crossed the starting line this morning the Kaiser was at the wheel of the Meteor, shouting orders to the crew in a stentorian voice which betrayed no sign of lingering weakness. The German Empress, also in full yachting costume was on the deck of her yacht, the Iduna, accompanied by the Crown Prince. Herr Ballin was on his yacht, the Hamburg. Prince Henry is sailing his yacht Orion in another race.

Another interesting race to-day is one in which the Comet, the Starbuck, the Wanderer and the Ringbald were the stars. The Comet is the original challenger, the Starbuck is the first to have been defeated by the Comet. The Wanderer and the Ringbald were the stars.

Mr. Loomis probably not friends at Plymouth and has gone with them to the country. I don't think that anything serious has happened to him. He is the first to have been defeated by the Comet. The Wanderer and the Ringbald were the stars.

CLASS DAY BRINGS CROWD OF 40,000 AT HARVARD
Commencement Girl in Greater Numbers Than Ever, Enjoys Ode and Oration, Then Joins Students at Spreads.

This is Class Day at Harvard. It is the one great day of the year at that historic seat of learning. Before daylight, it is conservatively estimated, fully 40,000 persons will have gathered through the building and promenade beneath the old site of the college yard.

With a cloudless sky and a heating breeze that promised a perfect day, the preparation for the day's events began early this morning. Plans and criticism were everywhere. Starting lines and there about the grounds were students and professors getting ready to take part of a most breaking crowd.

March to the Chapel.
At a break the members of the senior class assembled in front of Hastyway prepared to march to Appleton Chapel.

The procession was formed with President Hays and Carl Marshall at its head. The band of thirty pieces led the procession. No number of the senior class in attendance was over 200 years old. The students had assembled and the President Hays had begun his prayer in an impressive manner. The band on the outside began to play with great enthusiasm. "Hark! Hark! For Four Old Men, the officials of the day induced the band to play the hymn, "Hark! Hark! For Four Old Men."

The Class Day Oration.
The Class Day oration was delivered by Arthur Arwood Ballantine, who is a third class speaker. At the close of the eloquent address the orator was warmly applauded.

There have been few. Control from college authorities has meant little more than to advise from smiling down. The band has continued the playing after the oration and during the oration. The band has continued the playing after the oration and during the oration.

That most of all his own freedom here due to the great man who found the religious basis of the man whom we of this day have called a great man. He made it true, who found the religious basis of the man whom we of this day have called a great man.

It is believed all passengers were safe with the carriages were drenched.

IRON WEIGHT ABOUT DEAD MAN'S NECK

The man's feet were tied together and around his neck was a piece of iron weighing about twenty pounds. The police gave as their belief that the man committed suicide.

"Help! Help! I'm going to die!"
Screaming this, and waving her arms wildly, Miss Elizabeth Herwig, of Peabody, had Adams square railway station in an agonized state this morning. She merely fainted. Two policemen had the time of their lives quelling the crowd. Miss Herwig was sent to the Hotel Herwig and then home.

BOSTON AMERICAN READERS IN AN INTERESTING DISCUSSION OF THE QUESTION.

BOSTON AMERICAN readers have responded promptly and freely to the request for answers to the query: "How Should the Fourth of July be Celebrated?"

The first of the answers to this question are at hand and the writers express themselves in positive terms. It asks its readers to whose hands are the destinies not only of the city, but the State and nation as well, to send brief expressions of their views. The letters should contain not more than 200 words.

To add interest to the matter the AMERICAN will give the writer of the best answer a $20 gold piece.

To the writer of the answer next in excellence the AMERICAN will give a $10 gold piece.

THE CHAPERON OF HONOR CLASS

Alice Roosevelt to Be the Guest of Honor for Harvard's Seniors.

NEWPORT ROOSEVELT-MAD

By the Chaperon.

Today, as yesterday, the place of attraction for us will be Harvard, and the second of the class day exercises will be the well attended as was the first. Speaking of yesterday reminds me that I don't think that I ever before saw such a popular gathering as was on the campus of the hall. The girls in their lovely new frocks and the young women in their gowns made the typical college commencement scene. And while the girls were just being called by their names at one scene somewhere in the college. The spirit that was infused into the young women by the enthusiasm displayed on the field by the supporters, the boys in blue and the crimson, has not left me yet, and I am sure that many brought away with them the inspiring influence.

You can see what you wish about the cause of the class day exercises. It is a great thing that the girls have done for the cause of the class day exercises. It is a great thing that the girls have done for the cause of the class day exercises.
